GRANT'S POLICY.

A Semi-Official Statement of Forney.

From the Washington Chronicle, 6th.]

One of the first results of the change of administration will, doubtless, be the termination of those disorders in the South, which no humane citizen of either party would wish to have continued. We hazard nothing in saying that the more speedily and thoroughly Gen. Grant can suppress the outrages which have daily shocked the moral sense of all right thinking men for so long a time past, the better will he satisfy the country at large, including a majority even of the Democratic party. With order established in the South, life and property secured, and that freedom of speech and opinion which a republican people prize more highly than all material advantages guaranteed, the abounding natural resources of the South will soon attract capital and population from the North, and that section will advance in wealth, intelligence, and in everything which marks a high civilization, with a rapidity that will astonish its present residents. But these, owning as they do, most of the land, will be the largest partakers of the blessings which fall to their section, and it is to be hoped that their disaffection toward the Government, their prejudice against their fellow-countrymen of the North and against the colored people who live among them, and their discontent with their political destiny will all disappear with the same rapidity which marks all kinds of mental and material progress in this age and in our country. The masses of the Southern whites have been subjected to no penalties for treason, and notwithstanding the general unanimity with which they supported the rebel Government in its war against the Union, their fate is no harder than the fate of a minority in a republic always must be, viz: to have to submit to the will of a majority. In every Northern State there are thousands of people counting themselves free and feeling it no humiliation to respect the adverse decision of the ballot-box, who might consider themselves "an oppressed people" in the only sense in which the masses of the late rebels can so consider themselves. This remark applies to all except the comparative few who have been disfranchised or disqualified to hold office. As they return to reason they can scarcely fail to perceive this truth, and the tranquility which Gen. Grant's administration will inaugurate will afford them opportunities and furnish them incentives to the calm reflection which brings reason with it.

To the oppressed and persecuted Unionists of the South, whether white or colored, the accession of Gen. Grant to the seat now occupied by their base betrayer, Andrew Johnson, will be like a proclamation of deliverance from bondage. In what manner the turbulence and cruelty of their persecutors will be repressed, we shall not now discuss, but an administration honestly desirous of enforcing the laws can readily devise the necessary measures. Indeed, the moral effect of the knowledge that such an administration is in power will alone do a great deal toward the accomplishment of the end in view.

Another thing that will tend to reconcile all well-disposed people to the administration of Gen. Grant, will be the economy he will introduce into the management of our finances. In predicting this we do but judge his future acts by his past course. The testimony of Andrew Johnson as to his economical administration of the War Department, will be remembered by all our readers.

In his foreign policy, too, we have full confidence that Gen. Grant will do much to commend Republican administration of the Government to the masses of the people. We may be sure that the honor of our country will be in safe hands, that its interests will be faithfully cared for, that all its rightful claims will be enforced, and enforced without trouble or expense of war, and that its influence will be everywhere felt on the side of justice and liberty among other nations. We say, with the confidence of certainty, that Gen. Grant's administration, in its foreign policy, will make every American feel prouder than heretofore of his country, and thus endear itself to many of those who sought to prevent its accession to power.

In its effect upon the business of the country, the confidence and tranquility which the accession of the new administration will bring with it will be wonderful. The nervousness which has pervaded the community in consequence of the uncertainty of the future, when the antagonism between the executive and legislative branches of the Government was liable at any moment to involve the country anew in civil strife, is the chief, if not the only cause of the business stagnation which has borne so heavily upon the laboring classes for the last two years. Not only will the cause of this nervousness be now removed, but the minds of our statesmen, which have been necessarily employed in devising means to counteract the efforts of the President to defeat the laws, will now be left free to devise measures tending to promote the prosperity of the country. We may, therefore, anticipate a rapidity of development surpassing anything which has been witnessed in the past history of our country.

Championship of Base-ball.

The following extract from the New York Clipper will be of interest to our base-ball readers:

Notwithstanding that a new series has been arranged between the Atlantics and Athletics, the first game to come off on the 26th, there is some doubt whether the two clubs will come togther again this season. The result of the home and home game between the Mutuals and Atlantics, which came off on the 28th ult., places the championship question in a new light, and renders another meeting between the Athletics and Atlantics unnecessary. The rather unexpected defeat of the Atlantics by the Mutuals makes the latter club champions, and settles the matter altogether as far as the former club is concerned. The Athletics, however, still have their right in the premises, and, as the home and home game between them and the Mutuals is still in abeyance, the question arises whether a new series will not be necessary to decide which club is justly entitled to the honors. The Athletics, though they have defeated the Atlantics twice this season, have had no chance to win the championship, owing to the double dealing of the Union of Morrisanis, who refused to meet them. Under these circumstances, it looks as if a new series would be played between the Mutuals and Athletics,

TELEGRAPHIC.

The New Atlantic Cable from Brest to New York.

The London papers report encouragingly in regard to the manufacture of the wire for the new Atlantic telegraph, which is to be submerged between Brest and New York. The cable is almost identical in construction with those which were completed in 1866, the only difference being that the diameter of the conducting copper core is slightly greater, and the outside wires are of homogeneous Bessemer steel, galvanized, having a breaking strain of about one thousand pounds, while the wires outside the existing Atlantic lines have a breaking strain of only about eight hundred pounds. Sir James Anderson, who will command the Great Eastern during the expedition, has made the following observations regarding the Newfoundland Banks: By keeping in the five hundred fathom line upon the Milne Bank, and around the southern edge of the Grand Bank, there is no possibility of ice or any other agency that can be suggested injuring the cable. The northern edge of the Grand Bank was avoided because it is uncertain at what depth the icebergs ground. They are said, upon good authority, to ground, at times, in ninety fathoms. It is not certain at what depth the vessels employed in the seal trade may sometimes choose to drop an anchor for the purpose of keeping in the track of ice floes. These dangers are avoided by the track chosen for the proposed cable, and I am justified by my experience in saying that the track from the southern edge of the Grand Bank to St. Pierre, and thence to the place of landing in America, is entirely free from any danger of ice, and does not cross any anchorage resorted to by the fleet of fishing vessels.

The breaking strain of the new steel cable will be seven and a half tons, and the strain required for submersion need not be more than fourteen hundred pounds. Even if, at any time, it be necessary to haul up any portion of it already laid, the strain need not exceed a ton and a half in the deepest water. The weight of copper forming the conductor of the existing Atlantic cable is three hundred pounds per knot; in the new cable it will be about four hundred pounds. The Great Eastern has arrived at Sheerness, whence she will proceed with the cable, probably in the end of next June. After leaving the Medway she will go to Brest to finish coaling, and will thence start on the telegraphic expedition.

WHAT NEXT!

From the Anti-Slavery Standard.]

Abolitionists and all earnest Radicals are now summoned to address themselves to the work which is yet to be accomplished. It has become very apparent, through what has transpired in Georgia and elsewhere, that the reconstruction laws require careful revision and perfecting in several particulars. The negroes and loyal whites of the South greatly need the means of self-defense. The question of confiscation, especially with reference to the large amount of land fraudulently conveyed from the possession of the United States Government to the hands of rebels, should be at once considered, in the interest of the landless blacks, to whom, by virtue of their past unrequited toil, the soil rightfully belongs. A system of national education, which shall be comprehensive and at least co-extensive with the extension of the ballot, should early be inaugurated by Congress. The measure of primary importance now to be promptly initiated and adopted on the reassembling of Congress, is an additional amendment of the Constitution forbidding disfranchisement or proscription from official trust, on account of race or color, in any State or Territory of the Union. Such an amendement, if adopted promptly by Congress and submitted to the Legislatures of the several States, would, without doubt, now be ratified by the requisite number. It is urgently demanded to guarantee the ballot to Southern colored men, and to enfranchise many thousands in the border and Northern States. This measure should not be postponed for the consideration of the Forty-first Congress, but should be promptly acted upon and adopted by the Fortieth. "Let us have peace" has been many times reiterated during the campaign just closed. One danger before us is the assumption that the fact of Grant's election in itself will insure "peace" at the South. Abolitionists and those who have studied attentively Southern society, know better than this. While Southern Legislatures are permitted to perpetrate such high-handed outrages as the lawless expulsion of colored members, as in Georgia, without due punishment; if rebels are permitted to take seats in the House of Representatives who come from districts wherein colored and white Republicans were practically excluded from the polls, "peace" cannot be realized. The negro is still the bone of contention, and until his manhood and political equality is everywhere recognized, he will continue to be a disturbing element in our politics. Smarting under their political discomfiture, the Ku-Klux will still hold sway, especially if their treasonable chief is permitted to remain in the White House till the fourth of March next. With the triumphant re-election of Gen. Butler, and the well known desire of most of the new Southern members for the revival of the measure, we have strong hopes of the successful consummation of the impeachment and deposition of Johnson by the beginning of the new year. With Wade even two months in the White House, and such tools of treason as Rousseau, Steedman & Co., of New Orleans, replaced by Sheridan and other trustworthy, loyal men; with the reconstruction laws properly revised and amended; with suffrage and the right to hold office vouchsafed to the negro everywhere, the nation may be well on the way toward "peace," having secured its essential conditions, before Grant is inaugurated. While deliberate and organized injustice to the negro is perpetuated, the "irrepressible conflict" will continue, no matter who may be President. "Let us have peace," then, by promptly doing those things which make for peace.

The new era which opens before us, with the significant defeat of the slaveholders and their apologists on Tuesday, is full of interest to abolitionists and conscientious Radicals, to whom the national conflict means something more than a mere partisan strife, to end with election day. Our many triumphs in the past have been won under circumstances of adverse opposition much more formidable than anything we are likely to have to encounter in the near future. Opposition we are undoubtedly to have; but now, as hitherto, logic and right are on our side. We have but to press urgently and perseveringly our demand, and our past successes are a guarantee of ultimate complete triumph. The Times, the Post, the Herald, and the "Conservatives" for whom they speak, already exultant at what they deem the eclipse of Radicalism, reckon without their host in supposing it to be within the power of Gen. Grant, if, as they allege, it be his disposition to materially obstruct the progress of Radical reformation in national politics. If the Republican party consents to be the instrument of that beneficent reformation, all will be well with both the party and the country. If it refuses, it will only be worse for the party. There is no half-way house for permanent lodgment between slavery and genuine Republicanism. The only truly formidable opponents the abolitionists ever had were the brain champions of the slave system while their power was coextensive with the nation and their leadership acknowledged North and South. Their day is over. The earnest Radicals are the positive force in the new order of things. The tendency of this century is to universal Republicanism.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

English Women "Going" for the Suffrage.

The women of England are exerting strenuous efforts to secure the right to vote, and are making themselves otherwise conspicuous in politics. Not only have fifteen or twenty thousand women demanded to be registered as voters, but appeals from them are inserted in the English papers to vote for certain candidates. Ladies of high rank, like Lady Foley and Lady Amberley, are among the callers of political meetings, and, it is stated, appear on the platform. At Manchester, 5750 women claimed the right to vote, and the revising barrister, whose office it is to decide upon the qualifications of electors, delivered a well-considered opinion upon the subject. His examination of the different acts of Parliament goes back as far as 1430, when the statute passed in the eighth year of Henry VI, Chapter 7, limited the franchise in counties to "people" residing and dwelling in the same counties, and possessing freehold land of the annual value of forty shillings. Although the word people is used without reference to sex, no instance can be found in England of women having claimed or exercised the right to vote from 1430 to 1832. In the reform act of 1832, the various new franchises created were conferred upon "male persons," and the recent Reform act of 1867 confers the right to vote upon "every man" who is duly qualified under the provisions. In 1850, a law, commonly called the Interpretation act, was passed, which provided that words importing the masculine gender shall be held to include the female, unless the contrary intention shall be expressly declared. The advocates of female suffrage contend that the change of the words "male persons" into "man" indicates an intention on the part of Parliament to confer the elective franchise upon all qualified persons, irrespective of sex; but the revising officer at Manchester decided that as it could not be shown that women had ever voted in England, so important an innovation as female suffrage must be clearly and unequivocally established, and in the absence of evidence of any such intention on the part of the Legislature, he rejected the claim of the 5750 women to be placed on the list of voters. It is asserted, however, that about one thousand women will vote at the coming election for members of Parliament. The exercise of the right of suffrage by this small number of females, has resulted from the action in a few districts of the revising barristers, who refused to strike out from the lists the names of the women who claimed that the word "men," in the election laws, included adults of both sexes. This course, it is suggested, was adopted in order to bring the question before the House of Commons, to be decided in the case of a contested election. Anticipations are also indulged in that, unless Parliament shall definitely exclude women, at subsequent elections, unmarried women will hereafter enjoy the franchise on equal terms with the men.

THE NEWS.

The Rusk (Texas) Observer of the 31st ult. announces the death at that place of Capt. William H. Mullins, formerly of Sumner county, Tenn.

The London streets, placed in a single straight line, would reach as far as from Liverpool to New York. It takes three hundred and sixty thousand street lamps to illuminate the city at night.

The annual meteoric shower is expected this year between the 12th and 13th of the present month. The best time for observation will be between the hours of midnight and sunrise.

There is a real idol temple erected and formally established in the United States at Portland, Oregon. The building is completed, and the Chinamen are actively engaged in furnishing it.

William C. Corcoran, in addition to his many splendid deeds of charity, is said to have given the sum of $50,000 for the establishment of a home for poor and elderly females, in the city of Washington.

Maine is almost the only New England state in which railroads are being constructed to any considerable extent. There are now under contract and in progress 318 miles of new line in Maine, estimated to cost $9,276,000

The two thousand tents ordered from England for use in Canada, will accommodate thirty thousand soldiers. They are of an improved pattern, the wall being two feet high instead of one, as in the old pattern, thus affording much more standing room, and being altogether more comfortable, dry and convenient.

It is not true that the practice of homœopathy has been interdicted in Russia. On the contrary, it is encouraged, and the number of practitioners of the system is largely on the increase. They have formed a medical society at St. Petersburg, under imperial patronage.

The Smithsonian Institute, at Washington, has long been receiving specimens in Natural History from all parts of the world, packed in alcohol; and on one occasion, not long ago, a number of human babies were received, in a very fair state of preservation.

A gentleman named Fast, who went out with Gen. Ronsseau to Alaska, has returned to Washington with a large collection of Russian and Esquimaux curiosities, among which is a kiaky, with all its appropriate implements, some Russian coins, and a great variety of religious relics. They will be described in a book and then placed on exhibition.

A statement appears in an Edinburgh paper, on the authority of the Edinburgh Spanish Evangelization Society, that Gen. Prim has declared to Senor Cabrera, one of the agents of the Edinburgh Spanish Evangelization Society, and other exiles, that they may enter Spain with their Bibles under their arms to preach its doctrines.

A Chicago man is said to have recently patented an invention by which a train of cars, running at the rate of forty miles an hour, may be stopped in a few seconds. The invention consists in a new method of working the brake from the locomotive. The engineer on the locomotive may with ease apply the brakes on all the cars of which the train consists, and the services of brakemen may be dispensed with.

The glory has departed from Tammany. The beautiful new wigwam has been sold, and is to be a concert and dance hall hereafter. They must have a breakdown of some kind to keep up the proprieties of its erection, it is to be presumed. Bryant's Minstrels have for several months occupied a lower floor in the building, but they advertise themselves "Fourteenth street, adjoining the Academy of Music."

The New York Mail of the 5th says: Mr. Dana, who has, let us remember, been Assistant Secretary of War, asks a question in this morning's Sun, which we have all asked, and given it a practical and sensible answer, which has not occurred, we dare say, to one in ten of his readers or ours: "Who will succeed President Grant as Commanding General of the army?" The first answer suggested is: "Sherman, of course." The Sun answers, "No one."

The cod fisheries this year are reported to have failed. The New England fishermen complain that they have not been very successful this season in making large catches; and it is stated that the Leith and New Haven fishermen on the east coast of Scotland deplore the great scarcity of cod, haddock and other fish, the catching of which has been their main stay. French advices report that the French fisheries off New Foundland are exhausted. Instead of averaging 250,000 cod, vessels fail to average 20 000 this season, and masters are withdrawing their ships.

The Gaulois of the 21st ult. publishes a letter from Marshal Serrano, addressed to its editors. He says: "The revolution born at Cadiz proposed to leave to the country, acting in all its sovereignty, the choice of the government it should deem most worthy of itself; and the men who have put themselves at the head of that national movement are firmly resolved to have the programme respected which is inscribed on the revolutionary flag. For my own part I believe that a constitutional monarchy, surrounded by all the liberties compatible with that form of government, might well be the form the most in harmony with the spirit and particular circumstances of our country."

A New York correspondent says: The sensation sales of to-day were Pike's Opera House and the Tammany Wigwam. Pike's was bought by Mr. Fisk, of the firm of Fisk & Belding, bankers. As Mr. F. holds a strong hand in the Erie Railway Company, it is surmised that the designs converting the building into the purposes of that company. The probability is that the front part of it will be occupied for offices of the railway company, and that the theater, which is in rear of the main structure, will be used as heretofore, Mr. Fisk having at one time been connected with Mr. Brougham in the proprietorship of Dr guam's Theater. The nominal price paid for Pike's is $900,000 or $1,000,000. The sale goes into effect on Saturday next.

The Hartford Times says: Bishop Atkinson, of North Carolina, in an address delivered recently in Christ Church in this city, relating chiefly to church matters and missionary work, made one statement which is calculated to arrest the attention of every thinking person, regardless of sects, creeds, or politics views. He was referring to the rapid extinction of the negroes in the south, and in illustration of the state of things even in North Carolina, he spoke of a negro town opposite or near Newbern, consisting of 10,000 inhabitants. In that town, said the Bishop, one coffin dealer alone filled orders for 2500 coffins in a single year! This is a fact of terrible significance in its relation to the condition and destiny of the emancipated blacks.

A little more than a quarter of a century since a writer in Blackwood pointed with triumph to the fact that the population of England, Scotland and Wales had specifically increased about one million between 1801 and 1811 by an influx of Irish seeking employment, and he was so impressed with the encouraging character of this fact that he declared "there was no similar instance on record of so great an inundation of inhabitants breaking into any country, barbarous or civilized, not even the Roman Empire." What would he have said had he been told that within a few years 4,250,000 people would travel three thousand miles over the briny deep, instead of a short hundred, within a period of twenty years (the same time embraced in the instance he cited) to build a home in this free land?

The New York Herald of the 5th inst. says: The particulars of another bond robbery were reported at the Central Office, yesterday. It appears that on the night of the 30th ult. there was a Republican procession at Trenton, New Jersey, and an illumination of houses took place. Among others the residence of Dr. McKelway was ornamented with Chinese lanterns, etc., and presented an inviting appearance to his friends, among whom was a thief who quietly entered, and proceeding to a room on the second floor, where the doctor had stored $41,000 in Pacific Central and $8000 in Union Pacific railway stock and other bonds in a pocketbook in a small desk. The contents of the pocketbook were examined and the railway stock taken. The other bonds—New Jersey, railway stock—were overlooked. The thief then proceeded to the lower floor and stole about $600 worth of jewelry, which was in a desk in the doctor's office. During the excitement attending the procession very little attention was paid to the doors. A man, however, was seen leaving the house, and no notice was taken of it, as the doctor had many friends about the premises. The total value of the property stolen is $19,500.

Gen. Grant in response to a serenade from his political friends at Galena, Ill., where he has been spending the closing months of summer, made the following speech: "Friends and fellow-citizens of Galena—I thank you for this additional mark of your kindness. Sufficient, I suppose, has now been heard of the result of the late election to show upon whom it has fallen to administer the affairs of the nation for the next four years. I suppose it is no egotism in me to say the choice has fallen on me. The responsibilities of the position I feel, but accept them without fear, if I can have the same support which has been given to me thus far. I thank you and all others who have fought together in this contest—a contest in which you are all interested personally as much as, and perhaps more, than I am. I now take occasion to bid you good-bye, as I leave here to-morrow for Washington, and shall probably see but few of you again for many years to come, although it would give me great pleasure to make an annual pilgrimage to a place where I have enjoyed myself so much as I have here during the past few months."

An important railroad decision has just been rendered by the Supreme Court of Illinois involving a question of great interest to agriculturalists whose lands bound or adjoin any of our railroads. The question arose in several Circuit Courts some years since, and has been litigated with varied fortune, until at last the court of dernier resort has heard and determined it forever. Thus it runs: Farms lying contiguous to railroads, whose corner grounds are kept clear of grass, and whose grain fields or stacks take fire from locomotives, can recover damages. But where there is negligence on the part of both railroads and farmers in permitting grass and weeds to grow on the railroad land adjoining the track, and in the fence corners belonging to the farm, no damages can be recovered from the railroad land, therefore be no recovery. Mutual negligence forbids action for damage.

The Rev. Dr. McCosh, the newly elected President of Princeton College, in the course of his inaugural address last Tuesday, spoke of the several immediate wants of the College, among which he mentioned a gymnasium. In the course of the afternoon, a quiet, unpretending gentleman among the guests, who seemed to be the recipient of much more attention than he sought, asked one of the Trustees what such a gymnasium as they wanted, would cost. "About $20,000," was the reply. "Well," modestly said the gentleman, "I'll give ten thousand toward it, if you can raise the other ten." The news was whispered through the crowd, and in the course of a few hours another friend of the college had offered to contribute five thousand toward the remaining ten. Later in the evening the same gentleman concluded to raise his subscription from five thousand to ten, so as to have the gymnasium secured. The first contributor was Mr. Robert Bonner, of the New York Ledger, and the second, Mr. Marquand, a banker, also of New York.

CAMERON ELECTED IN THE FIRST DISTRICT, ARK.

DINNER TO DR. LEFTWICH.

We learn that the friends of our Congressman elect, without regard to party, intend for him the honor of a public dinner, at an early day. The affair is in the proper hands and we predict will worthily reflect the esteem in which he is held by all sorts of people. Without in the least giving way to his opponents, Dr. LEFTWICH has the happy faculty of earning golden opinions from them, at the same time fully sustaining the character of a loyal and prominent member of the Democratic party. His qualities of head and heart are appreciated wherever he is known, nowhere more highly than in Washington, where, we are free to say, no man from Tennessee ever enjoyed a greater degree of personal popularity than the man whom we are about to honor.

THE RESULT.

On our first page we present to our readers a carefully compiled table of the result of the late election, including a full list of the members of the next Congress. From this it will be seen that we will have a party representation of 88 members in the House, and therefore the balance of power in the National Legislature. This is a promising beginning of the end. We will now, perhaps, be able to break the force of the reckless legislation of the last and preceding Congress, and prevent a repetition of the partisan course that has of late disgraced that body.

The Republicans may, however, following the custom already instituted by them, attempt the expulsion of a sufficient number of Democrats to preserve to them their two-third majority. Already we hear of contests for Democratic seats, commencing with our own Representative, Dr. LEFTWICH, who is threatened with the opposition of SMITH, the negro candidate. We hope not, but fear the dirty game will be played and that, as heretofore, it will be tolerated by the people who have endorsed reconstruction in the person of GRANT.

REPUBLICAN VS. RADICAL.

The Bulletin of yesterday, in large, bold type, indicative of the boldness of the step it takes in advance of its party, announces the following as its platform:

We highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forbearance with which the men who have served in the rebellion, but now frankly and honestly co operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern State governments upon the basis of impartial justice and equal rights are received back into the communion of the loyal people; and we favor the removal of the disqualifications and restrictions imposed upon the late rebels in the same measure as the spirit of disloyalty will die out, and as may be consistent with the safety of the loyal people.

To which the Post (bitter Radical) answers by quoting, and fully endorsing, the following piece of vindictiveness from our dying Governor, extracted from the last number of the Knoxville Whig, where it appeared over his signature, "Senior Editor":

"Backward steps now would be dishonorable, unmanly. We write thus, not that we fear such steps are intended; but because we know appeals will be made to the magnanimity of a great party, flushed with extraordinary success, to deal liberally with the vanquished. We hope our Legislature will remember the fabled viper which turned upon its benefactor and destroyed him. Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana furnishes striking examples of what magnanimity towards those incapable of appreciating and rightly using the magnanimity shown them will result in. We trust our representatives will not throw away the fruits of victory by a foolish display of magnanimity towards those who do not deserve it, and who would abuse it to the detriment and danger of the State."

These extracts significantly point the difference between Republicanism and Radicalism in Tennessee.

GRANT A NO-PARTY MAN.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal, a Radical paper of much influence, thinks GRANT will make a no-party President. It says:

"It is truly said that 'Grant is not a party man; his administration will be, if he has his own way, eminently national and non-partisan.' No man in the United States could be found who will be truer to the best interests of the South than he. Peace and industry will be set up as the condition of prosperity in that rent and blighted land, and prosperity will follow. Do the people ask a President who is committed to no one-sided scheme, the tool of no clique? Gen Grant is pre-eminently that man. And when we add to this that he is honest in his own purposes to promote the welfare of all, he may well command the undivided support of the nation."

In this connection, the following letter from Gen. BUTLER, which the canvass in his District brought to light, may be consoling to the ultra Radical who voted for GRANT:

BAY VIEW, NEAR LANESVILLE, MASS.,
August 25, 1867.

My Dear Sir: I have read your letter to Mr. Smith upon the proposed nomination of Grant, with much interest. Its criticisms on Grant's career are just, but what will you do? you can not get it or anything else concerning Grant that is not laudatory published. And why? Because both sides are courting him for the Presidency, and so the truth must not be told. We are, I fear, to try the experiment that we did with Johnson, i. e. nominate a man for his supposed availability without knowing his principles or fitness. Grant's election will be a misfortune, because it will put in a man without a head or heart; indifferent to human suffering and impotent to govern.

I am yours truly,
BENJAMIN F. BUTLER.

W. JONES, Neenah, Wis.

Would it not be a good joke upon the Radicals were GRANT to Tylerize them? In that case we might have another attempt at impeachment.

MR. S. R. LATTA, of Dyersburg, informs us, by letter dated November 6, that Seymour's majority in Dyer county is 289, all the negroes voting the Democratic ticket.

By Telegraph.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 9.—In the collision between the steamers Gen. Meade and Marmion, it appears that a telegraph signal on the Marmion was mistaken for her port light, and the Meade ran into her amidships, causing one of her boilers to burst, without, however, seriously injuring any one on board. The Marmion sunk to her main deck, and the Meade had a hole knocked in her bow, from which she leaked very badly. It was found necessary to run her on the Jersey flats.

At a late hour on Saturday night, Geo. Cornelius and John Bailey, two negroes, had a quarrel on Broome street, when the latter stabbed the former badly. The ruffian escaped.

John Reilly, a laborer, residing at No. 81 Ninth avenue, was arrested last night on suspicion of murdering his wife.

Advices from St. Domingo state that the condition of the country grows worse every day. No business is done. The government has no money. It is doubtful if any support will be rendered to Mr. Sullivan's proposal for a line of steamers to New York and New Orleans. The revolution was spreading.

A Berlin special says the opening debates in the Prussian House indicate an increase of the majority on the side of the government.

A Constantinople special says several of the conspirators implicated in the plot against the Sultan's life have been arrested. The conspiracy originated in the hate of the Catholics for the Musselmen, and the desire for independence animating Christians in Turkey.

About seven o'clock last evening, before the departure of the Philadelphia train from the New Jersey Railroad depot, Jersey City, Mr. John McCallon, a merchant doing business at No. 4 Eldridge street, New York, was attacked by three ruffians and robbed of his pocketbook, containing one hundred and forty dollars.

In the case of John S. Spicer, who was arrested nearly three weeks ago by Inspector Walling and detectives Irwing and Coyle, of the Central office, on the charge of having stolen $40,000 in Government bonds from the sub-treasury on Wall street, on the 21 of July last, Judge Hogan rendered a decision, that after a careful review of the testimony introduced during the Examination the Judge believed there was sufficient cause to justify him in holding Spicer, and therefore fully committed him for trial in default of $20,000 bail.

A Warsaw special says the peasantry of Walravia have raised arms against the Russian commander. They are led by the Catholic clergy. Other specials say about a thousand Cretans, who had sought shelter there, have returned home, the greater part of Crete being reported quiet, although the insurgents hold the mountains.

The Rosenberg indictments were up to-day in the United States District Court, before Judge Blatchford, and were remanded back to the United States Circuit Court, for argument before Judge Nelson on Wednesday. Judge Nelson to-day refused a motion for habeas corpus in the case.

McHenry, charged with perjury against Commissioner Rollins, has been admitted to bail of $5000.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, November 9.—Speaker Colfax arrived this morning. Ingersoll, of Illinois, is the only other member of the House known to be in the city. Senators Wood, Morgan, Cameron and Corbett are here. After the declaration of the adjournment of Congress to-morrow, Wade and Colfax will return to the West.

The Secretary of the Treasury will order an additional amount of the three per cents issued if necessary to relieve the money market.

A proclamation is made of a treaty with the Indians in Kansas, providing that a portion of them shall remove from that State to reservations south in the Indian country, while other portions will become citizens. The Indians are to be duly compensated.

Gen. Grant is at Army headquarters.

Maj.-Gens. Thomas, Hancock and Terry, the officers comprising the court of inquiry for investigation of the case of Gen. Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, have assembled in this city.

HAVANA.

HAVANA, November 9.—The Diario to-day publishes the following intelligence: Col. Land, who left the town of Tauras on an expedition in the country in search of provisions and supplies, has returned without success, the insurgents having destroyed every kind within their reach.

The Diario says there are numerous bands of robbers, who are committing many depredations, acting under the position of revolutionists. The planters in a large portion of the Eastern District of the island are consequently unable to harvest their crops. This state of things, it is feared, will lead to famine and desolation.

A mail carrier was assassinated last week and the mails rifled by the robbers, who have seized the mails at various points in the disturbed districts.

Capt. Lersundi has received a telegram from the home Government, ordering him to suspend, at his discretion, as occasion may require, the death penalties of prisoners condemned for political offences.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, November 9.—The News has complete returns from nearly every district in South Carolina, giving a Republican majority of 9900—a Democratic gain of 33,500 since the election for the new Constitution in April.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, November 9.—Gen. W. B. Reade, an eminent lawyer, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting himself through the head.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKIE, November 9.—A run on the Milwaukie banks commenced Saturday. The Wisconsin State Bank has suspended. Its liabilities are said to be heavy.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, November 9.—Gov. Bullock has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the persons who caused the death of Albert C. Ruffin, Sheriff of Richmond county, killed during the election at Augusta.

THE GARROTERS.—Bud Patton and Hans Margum were discharged from custody yesterday by 'Squire Millard, on their second appearance before him on the charge of highway robbery. The prosecution in some way found it to their advantage not to be present—hence the discharge.

THE corner stone of the new church building, now being erected by the congregation of the Central Methodist Church on Union street, will be laid next Sunday, 15th instant. The appropriate and interesting ceremonies of the Masonic Fraternity will be performed on the occasion. An address will be delivered by a distinguished orator from abroad. The exercises will be in the afternoon, so that all may attend.

THE RACES—POOL SELLING.—At the pool selling last night, Mr. S. K. Reynolds seller, the following were the favorites: In the Saloon Purse, Conlisk's Larkin the favorite; Railroad Purse, Conlisk's Gilroy the favorite; Wine Stake, West & Vaughan's Bee Farris the favorite. The pools sold much better last night than on Saturday evening, and would have made a far brisker sale if the weather had not been so unpropitious.

A CONCERT and exhibition will be given by the Sunday School of the Central Methodist Church on Friday evening, 13th inst., the proceeds to be appropriated to the new church building now being erected on Union street. Miss Nora Bradford, the favorite singer of our city, Mrs. Brummell, of well known musical talent, and others, have consented to lend their charming voices to the interest of the occasion. Tickets may be had at the bookstores. Place of the concert will be announced hereafter.

THE THEATER.—A very fair audience greeted the first appearance of Mr. and Miss Couldock, last night. Had the weather been propitious the house would have been crowded. Mr. Couldock has lost none of his vigor, and his daughter is a very pleasing young actress. The play to-night is the drama of the Willow Copse, with Mr. Couldock in the character of "Luke Fielding," which will, no doubt, draw a better house. The afterpiece was changed to the Limerick Boy, owing to the absence of one of the performers. In the latter play, Mr. McWade, as usual, elicited shouts of laughter.

THE DESOTO BOARDING AND LIVERY STABLE.—Mr. Joe Seligman, the most enterprising livery stable keeper in the city of Memphis, and who turns out one of the very finest "rigs" to be seen on the streets, has just purchased the large and commodious DeSoto stable, No. 55 Union street, which he has fitted up in first-class style as a livery and boarding stable. The buggy room is separate and fire-proof. Horses will be boarded cheaper than elsewhere. His old stables, corner Union and Third, will be reserved as a sale stable. 1w

LEO. WHEAT.—Our late townsman, Mr. Leo. Wheat, is thus justly complimented by the New Orleans Picayune of Sunday last: "We had the pleasure of being present at a private rehearsal, Friday night, of some of the music to be performed at the grand concert for Wheat's benefit, on the 12th inst., and with us, besides a brilliant assemblage of amateurs and others, merely hearers, were some of our first professional men, and heard, with the critical approval of all, the "Second Grand Trio" of Mendelssohn, performed on the piano, violin and violincello, Gounod's Ave Maria, on the same instruments, and sung by Miss Generes, and several others in which each instrument named took the lead. Mr. Wheat's original and yet most artistic execution was universally admired, and all re-echoed the sentiment of Mr. Chickering, who, after he had received the gold medal at the great Paris exposition, for the best American piano, presented the instrument to Mr. Wheat, as due to the greatest American pianist." A gentleman of culture and information informs us that Mr. Wheat has made quite a sensation as organist of Trinity Church, especially among musicians, by whom he is esteemed one of the finest organists in the country. His style is characterized by great power, combined with an insurpassable delicacy of touch.

THE RACES.

First Day of the Fall Meeting.

Splendid Sport—Fast Time—Interesting Meeting—A Successful Commencement.

The warm weather of the past three or four days, culminated yesterday in a sultry, hot, cloudy day. The sun rose clear enough in the morning, and his beams promised to those of the votaries of the turf, who "got up" soon enough, a most glorious day. Clouds, however, soon overcast the skies, and by mid-day there were serious apprehensions of a rainy afternoon. These were not realized immediately, and the throng which had congregated from all parts of the country soon began to go out to the track by every possible conveyance. The street cars were crowded for the nonce, and the public cabs and carriages were put in requisition. The attendance consisted mostly of men, very few ladies being present. Those who did go, however, enjoyed a splendid evening's sport.

The racing commenced with a dash of a single mile, for two year olds, "Hopeful Stake," subscription p. p. $20, and the Association add $300. Five entries were originally made for this race, as follows:

A Keene Richards and John Kilgour enter ch filly, by imported Mickey Free; dam Blonde by Glencoe. Colors—Silver Grey and White.

A. Keene Richards and John Kilgour enter ch colt, John Kilgour, by imported Mickey Free; dam sister to Prior No. 4, by Glencoe. Colors—Silver Grey and White.

A. Barnes enters b f Nannie Douglas, by Jim Rogers; dam by Wagner. Colors—Red and Green.

A. Barnes enters W. E. Barnes' b g Deringer, by Jim Rogers; dam Sunshine, by Engineer. Colors—Red and Green.

Of these, however, only two started, Richards' and Kilgour's "John Kilgour," and Barnes' "Nannie Douglas."

The selling at the pool stand and the betting was all in favor of the bay filly Nannie Douglas—Kilgour being bought only because he was the dernier resort. Both animals were well jockied, and at the ringing of the bell got off together, Kilgour having the track. Kilgour was a half length ahead on passing the string, and maintained his position to the first quarter, where the bay filly began to pull ahead, and maintained herself, neck and neck, up to the half mile stake. Time, 54 seconds. From the half mile stake, Kilgour pulled ahead again, and on passing the string was a half length ahead. Time, 1:47, winning the heat and race. This is the best time made by any two year old this year, beating the Lexington time ¾ of a second.

This race caused considerable consternation among the betting and sporting fraternity, and a large amount of money changed hands. A general feeling of satisfaction, however, pervaded the crowd, who always like to see the favorite beaten, somehow.

THE SECOND RACE

was for three year olds, mile heats, subscription $30 p. p.—Association adding $300. The original entries for the race were:

A. Keene Richards and John Kilgour enter Bettie Bay, by imported Australian; dam Bettie Wade, by Lexington. Colors—Silver Grey and white.

A. A. Keene Richards enters b c Locust Post, by Melbourne; dam by Vincent Nolte. Colors—Silver Grey and White.

A. Keene Richards enters ch filly by Colossus, dam sister to Edgar by Star Davis. Colors—Silver Grey and White.

E. T. Talty enters ch g Donovan, by Bulletin, dam by Embassador.

J. V. Grigsby enters b f Minnie Milton, by Lexington; dam Miss Morgan by Yorkshire. Colors—White, Green and Red.

Peter Mitchell enters b h Elgin, by Shelby; dam imported Emu. Colors—Red and Red.

Of these, only the first, fifth and eighth entries ran, as follows: Bettie Bay, Ontario and Minnie Milton. At the pool-selling Ontario was the favorite by fifty to twenty-three, and betting was in his favor from three to two, to two to one against the field, with, at first, plenty of takers. When the animals were brought on the track the betting grew quite lively, Ontario being the first choice, Minnie Milton and Bettie Bay having about an even number of backers and friends. On the call, Ontario got the track, Bettie Bay second, and Minnie Milton outside.

FIRST HEAT.

The horses got away all together, making a splendid start, Ontario having the lead, Minnie Milton next, and Bettie Bay third. On passing the first quarter Bettie Bay seemed to draw up and lap Minnie Milton, and at the half, the two were neck and neck, Ontario leading. There was no change in place or distance down the back stretch, and when they passed the string Ontario was three lengths ahead, Minnie Milton second, and Bettie Bay third. Time—1:53½.

SECOND HEAT.

This was a repetition, almost, of the first heat. At the tap Ontario took the lead, Minnie Milton following, and Bettie Bay last. At the first quarter Bettie Bay drew up and ran neck and neck with Minnie Milton, Ontario keeping the lead. At the half stretch all the horses seemed to be in a bunch, Ontario apparently falling off. On the home stretch the struggle was beautiful, and ended by Ontario's winning the heat and race by a length, Minnie Milton second and Bettie Bay third. Time, 1:46¾.

SUMMARY.

J. V. Grigsby ent. b. f. Minnie Milton.....2. 2.
J. Keene Richards and John Kilgour ent. Bettie Bay.....3. 3.
Time, 1:53½, 1:46¾.

THIRD RACE.

Overton Hotel purse, $250. Dash of one mile and a quarter—$50 to be given to the second horse. The following entries were made, all of which went, Joe Johnston having the pole:

West and Vaughan enters ch m Phœnix Bell, four years old, by Australian; dam Dolly Carter by imported Glencoe. Colors—Red and Green.

A. Keene Richards enters b h Locust Post, by Melbourne; dam by Vincent Nolte. Colors—Silver Grey and White.

A. Keene Richards enters ch h Transit, four years old, by Blackwind; dam Prairie Flower, by imported Sovereign. Colors—Red and Blue.

Jno. C. Slack enters b h Little Mack, by Zodiac, five years old, out of imported Wetherbit mare. Colors—Blue and Blue, Orange sash.

A Keene Richards and John Kilgour enter b f Bettie Bay, three years old, by imported Australian; dam Bettie Ward, by Lexington. Colors—Silver Grey and White.

E. Warwick enters Joe Johnston, by Goodwood; dam by imported Lexington. Colors—Red and Blue.

Little Mack was the favorite, both at the pools and in the betting, Joe Johnston being the next. At the start all the horses got off beautifully, there being not a length difference when they crossed the line, Joe Johnston leading, Little Mack next, and Phœnix Bell last. At the first quarter the chances seemed equal, and the friends of each horse were jubilant and ready to risk their greenbacks recklessly—every offer finding a taker. The friends of Little Mack were offering five to three with plenty of takers. At the half station Little Mack, without seeming to try himself, had put two lengths between himself and his followers, and his friends were offering five to two, with few or no takers. On the home stretch Little Mack maintained his position, and on crossing the line was two lengths ahead, Transit second, Joe Johnston third, Jack Gamble fourth, Bettie Bay fifth, and Phœnix Bell making a bad sixth—say ten or twelve lengths behind. Time—2:13¾.

There were no accidents or incidents to report, and the races thus closed for the day most satisfactorily to all—even the losers. The ride back to the city was most pleasant, although somewhat dusty, which trouble was soon afterward remedied by a rain, which set in shortly after nightfall, and which at present writing is still most persistently falling. In our advertising columns will be found the entries for to-day.

FATAL AFFRAY.

The Victim an Old Offender.

On Saturday evening Officer Crupper, of the Second District, arrested a negro named William Wesley Holtz for committing an assault on one William Smith. On taking him to the station Holtz was very obstreperous and showed fight—not only to the officer making the arrest, but to the turnkey, O. K. Davis (also a colored man, who locked him up. Yesterday morning Holtz was released, and as soon as he was turned out he said that he intended to kill Davis on sight. In the evening, about half-past four o'clock, he saw Davis standing in front of the Second District Station, on Causey street, and approached him in a very threatening way. As soon as Davis espied him he drew a pistol (a Colt's small size repeater) and shot him, the ball taking effect about three inches diagonally above the navel, and two inches below the heart, on the left side. It ranged directly through, and was taken out from beneath the skin, near the spine, making a mortal wound.

The wounded man did not bleed at all after being shot, and had strength enough to run nearly to his own house on DeSoto street, near the bridge, before he fell. He was then picked up and conveyed to his house where, we understand, he died about 11 o'clock last night. He was an old offender, and under the name of Wm. Wesley figured extensively and frequently in the Police Courts, which have thus a most happy riddance of him.

THAT BIG SUIT AGAINST CAPTAIN DAN ABLE.

No Infraction of the Revenue Laws.

All a Radical Electioneering Dodge to Defeat Capt. Dan.

Letter from Collector Langford to Collector Saunders.

We published, among our news items on Sunday morning, an account of a suit brought at the instance of Government officials in St. Louis, against Capt. Dan. Able and his sureties, on a bond for $28,000, given in this District to Collector Rolfe S. Saunders for a shipment of whisky made in bond from this city to Fort Benton, Montana Territory. Upon an investigation of the facts we find that the whisky was duly shipped after a compliance with the requirements of the Revenue Laws and the regulations of the Treasury Department, and the cause of the failure of Capt. Able to comply with the law, and get the whisky to its place of destination in the time prescribed by law, was no fault of Capt. Able, but resulted from obstructions in navigation, which were entirely unavoidable. Eighty-seven barrels of the shipment were received in due time and the balance of the lot were put off of the boat at Omaha because there was not water sufficient in the river for the boat to proceed with all the freight. We have seen a letter from Collector Langford, of Montana Territory, who states the facts, and fully exonerates Capt. Able from any blame in the matter. The suit was brought by the leaders of the Radical party in St. Louis with the base and unworthy motive of influencing votes in the recent election, when Capt. Able was the Democratic nominee for Sheriff of St. Louis. We are satisfied neither Capt. Able nor his sureties, Capt. Jo Banfill or W. C. Postal, are in any manner to blame for anything that has transpired in this transaction.

Collector Langford in his letter to Collector Saunders, relating to this whisky, August 18, 1868, says: "In relation to these spirits I have to say that after making due and careful inquiry, I am satisfied that the owners and shippers of the same have made every possible effort to deliver them at the bonded warehouse in this District. In sending them up the river last year, it became necessary for the boat to discharge part of the cargo at some point below Fort Union, and then another part at other points above Fort Union, in order to reach Fort Benton with any of the shipment. This last spring the water was unusually high, and boats brought their full cargo to Fort Benton on their first trips, and all returned immediately to St. Louis, hoping to make another full trip before the water should fall, and no trouble was anticipated in getting the returning boats to take on board this whisky, but the falling of the river prevented their doing this, and it will be impossible to bring more of it this year. The gauge of the fifty-eight barrels received this season show a loss of 3¾ gallons to each barrel for leakage—equal in value to $30 in gold upon each barrel; and this circumstance, together with the efforts that I know have been made to deliver the spirits here, convince me that the owners have made every effort to comply with the law."

FINANCE.

The offerings of exchange to-day were light, while currency comes forward liberally, and the demand for exchange is probably heavier than at any time this season, leaving our discount houses easy on the money question. All Eastern bills are taken at ⅛c discount. Selling at par to ¼@⅛c discount—the latter for large amounts. New Orleans bills are also offered in larger quantities than usual, while the demand is very good from our grocery houses, who are checking against purchases of sugar and molasses to a large amount. One house alone purchased bills to the amount of $10,000 to-day, and will require an equal amount to-morrow.

In stocks and bonds there was little doing to-day. City bonds were offered at 53c, but we could hear of no sales.

County Warrants are steady. Dealers buy at 62@63c. One broker purchased several small lots at these figures, while street brokers were offering 1@⅛c better. Selling over the counter at 65@68s.

Gold has improved during the week, opening at 133½c on Wednesday, and closing to-day at 134½c. Our dealers buy at New York rates, and sell at an advance of 1@2c.

The October statement of the public debt has been issued. The amount of debt bearing coin interest is $2,107,357,000; of debt bearing currency interest, $7,232,500; of matured debt not presented for payment, $975,372,864; of debt bearing no interest, $407,151,898 42. The amount of bonds issued to Pacific Railroad Companies is $42,194,000. The total debt is $2,641,002,572 06. The amount of coin in the Treasury is $103,407,985 77; amount of currency in the Treasury, $10,465,033 47. The amount of the debt, less cash in the Treasury is $2,527,129,552 82.

At a late meeting of the associated banks of New York, a resolution was passed, whereby the three per cent. certificates now held as a portion of the legal reserve, should be used in the settlement of balances between banks, in the same way that the Clearing House certificates were formerly used. If this plan had been adopted a few weeks since much trouble and disaster would have been avoided.

The director of the United States mint, in his report for the month of October, acknowledges $178,277 83 gold deposits, and $73,522 87 of silver deposits and purchases. The gold coinage for the month was $10,844 50—all in fine bars. The silver coinage was to the amount of $40,272 06; the nickel, five and three-cent pieces, to $112,550, and the bronze and two-cent pieces, $16,800. The total number of pieces coined was three millions, seven hundred and thirty-three thousand and twenty-four, of the value of $180,406 65.

COTTON.

It will be remembered that our last week's review of the cotton market embraced Tuesday, as our issue was delayed until Wednesday, in order to give our readers the result of the election. Our review, therefore, to-day will cover only the transactions of the past five days.

The Liverpool market on Wednesday last opened with a good demand and prices tending upwards, Uplands 11¼d, Orleans 11¼d. On the following day it advanced ¼d, but the advance was not sustained. Friday's market was steady at 11¼d for Uplands. There has been no change since, the market to-day closing easier, but not quotably lower; Uplands on spot 11¼d, Uplands afloat 10¼d.

The New York market opened quiet but firm with Middlings 25½c. It fell ¼c on Friday, but rallied to 25½c on Saturday, and closed to-day quiet and weak, Uplands 24½@25c, Orleans 25½c, Good Middlings 26½c.

Our market for the week has been, on the whole, active, with sales equal to, if not in excess, of the receipts; 22½c was the lowest point reached by Middlings, while on Wednesday and Thursday sales were made at 23c. To-day the inquiry was fair, but at lower rates. Among to-day's sales, which were the lighest of any day in the week, we quote the following: 25 Good Ordinary, 21½; 25 Low Middlings, 22½c, 36 at 22½c, 60 at 22½c, 32 at 22½c, 46 at 22c; 80 Middlings, 22½c, 24, 53, 15 and 26 at 22½c, 16 at 22½c; 112 Strict Middlings, 23½c, 3 at 23½c, 10 at 23½c; 9 Good Middlings, 24c. The unsold stock on hand is very light—not exceeding, we think, 3000 bales. We quote as follows:

Ordinary	21 @—
Good Ordinary	21½@—
Low Middlings	21 @22½
Middlings	22½@23½
Strict Middlings	23½@23¾
Good Middlings	24 @—

TRADE.

Business during the week has been very fair, though the election early in the week intervened and had the effect of keeping planters at home, when those who were enfranchised exercised the privilege of voting for Seymour and Blair. The result of the election is already known to our readers, and was not altogether unexpected. An affair of the kind in which our people had a greater interest, never before passed off so quietly in this city, though every effort was made by the Radical element to engender bitterness upon the part of the negro and to embroil them with the whites. The only remarkable feature of the week in the way of trade is the rapid advance of bacon, which has jumped up from 1@1½c per pound. This advance has been caused by the very light stock elsewhere, but it is not destined to last long. Already bulk meats have been received, and by the last of this week we look for it to take the place of bacon almost wholly. The weather so far has been too warm to admit of killing at any one of the great pork markets, and so far prices of hogs have been somewhat irregular, but range from 5@7c. The feeling among packers is adverse to such prices as the closing sales of old stocks would be apt to establish; and this feeling is still further deepened by the general decline of the produce market. Flour, and all the cereals, are sliding down from their high quoted altitudes, and promise, from their movements, to disregard all checks until they reach the level they occupied before the war. It is a year of great plenty throughout our own country, as well as in many parts of Europe, and a marked reduction in the cost of breadstuffs and provisions is legitimately to be expected.

In dry goods prices of heavy styles are firmer, owing to an advance in freights, but the advance is hardly established as yet, and we are justified in saying that buyers can fill their orders at last week's quotations. No immediate change is looked for in the Eastern markets, and no demand further than for the most urgent wants. Of course prices will be governed by that of the raw material, as stocks East are very generally light.

In boots and shoes there is the same activity to report as last week. Stocks are fair and are replenished daily, and prices are still firm on all seasonable goods. The Shoe and Leather Reporter says of the New York market: The demand for boots and shoes since our last has been only moderate, the present trade being principally for jobbing parcels, and shipments to the larger markets West and Southwest show a decline, while those to New York city are only about one-half what they were last year at this date. The trade East since our last have been surprised by the failure of a prominent boot and shoe firm in St. Louis, whose liabilities are reported to be $400,000, a large amount of which is said to be due to the Eastern trade, but so far as we can learn, this failure, although large, will not affect the stability or standing of any Eastern house, as all interested parties are abundantly able to meet this emergency, even if money is quoted stringent and tightening. Manufacturers in the wholesale trade are looking up patterns and styles for the next season's trade, but thus far there is but slight change, and former styles will be continued, with fancy cut tops for balmorals. In the home trade business continues good; prices are firm and steady, and manufacturers of the finer grades of boots and shoes are fully employed on retailers' orders.

While California is producing $45,000,000 in gold, she produces $60,000,000 in farm products and $50,000,000 in manufactured goods.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

The river recedes very slowly, with little or no change in the channel depth for several days, as the process of cutting out is at about the ratio of the decline. Seven feet at President's Island is all that can be found. This is the shoalest place to Vicksburg. Hence to Cairo 6½ feet is reported, while others only give 6 feet large at 94—the worst place to Cairo. From the latter point to St. Louis, it is variously estimated at 5 to 5½ feet and falling. The lower Ohio had but 3½ feet on the shoalest places, but the late rise has helped matters considerably, though only for a short time. The rise has just reached Cairo.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The city Engineer Corps were at work on the landing yesterday. We hope they will establish a "high" and "low" water mark so that some data can be given about the rise and fall of the river at this point.

Mark Cheek's elegant new ferryboat the Geo. W. Cheek, works like a charm, and it will be seen by reference to her card elsewhere that she has commenced her regular trips to Mound City. Capt. Mark will let her out some day soon, when we may expect to hear of some quick time.

Mr. A. H. Howe, the popular insurance agent of St. Louis, has been in our city for some days on a visit.

We again have two Tuesday packets for White river. The Des Arc was detained, and will not get away before noon to-day. She makes all way landings. Capt. John Elliott is master, and Joe Elliott, with Matt Glass, are clerks.

We learn that the little steamer Hesper will enter the trade from here to Osceola under the command of Capt. Sterling Whitehead. She will regain the favor under him which she lost under the scalawag Houston.

Mr. G. F. Smith of St. Francis county, Ark., picked 1980 pounds of seed cotton from one acre of land.

The new steamer St. Francis had steam up on Saturday at Louisville, and will make a trial trip to-day or to-morrow. She will be here to leave for St. Francis river on Tuesday next.

Horatio Houston, a well known engineer, died at Louisville on Friday night last.

Mr. Charley Stahley and his bride have returned from Arkansas, where they have been spending the honeymoon.

L. Wolff, formerly of this city, has put up a distillery at Fort Smith.

The steamer Sam Hale did not get away yesterday, but will leave to-day for Cairo and Cincinnati. Capt. Walker is her master.

The Argos, Capt. Sisbree, backs out to-day for the cut off on St. Francis river. Mr. Coffin is clerk.

The good steamer Mary Forsyth, Capt. Alex. Zeigler, leaves to-day at 4 p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. She connects with the trains North and East. Messrs. White and Briggs are her clerks, and are among the most popular gentlemen on the river.

The Magenta is our regular Wednesday New Orleans packet. She is eminently worthy of the patronage of our people, and we hope she will get all the cotton she can carry. Capt. J. Frank Hicks commands, and is one of our own citizens. The office is in charge of Capt. John Brooks and John Sullivan, who are well known to our shippers. The Magenta has no superior as a passenger packet, while her tables are sumptuous enough for a lord, under the management of Mr. Frank Smith. She should get at least 2000 bales of cotton at this port.

Flem Calvert's black horse "Bull of the Woods" is entered for the four mile race on Saturday.

The elegant United States mail packet Liberty, Capt. Jim Rice, will get away to-day for White river. She is one of our best local packets, and connects with the train for Little Rock at Deyrall's Bluff. In her office Milt Harry, small of statue, but large of heart, reigns the lord of all he surveys. Mr. Walter is her able caterer.

The Natoma, with Capt Jim Lee on the roof, backs out to-day at her regular hour for Friar's Point and all way landings. She is a handsome and prompt packet. Fields and Lee divide the duties of the office and are tip-top officers. The Des Arc came in with 556 bales of cotton and a good trip of people.

The Empire did not go below. She reshipped here on the Louisiana and will go back to Louisville and Cincinnati to-day at 5 p.m. Capt. Harton is her master.

The Ozark did not get in to leave last night, but will no doubt be found at the levee this morning. She makes all landings on the Arkansas and is a first-class passenger packet. Harrison Blasdell is master and Ed Outlaw is clerk.

An adjourned meeting of the friends of Capt. DeHaven was held a few days ago in Parlor P, of the St. Charles Hotel, in New Orleans. Capt. Marsh Miller was called to preside. Capt. DeHaven was called on to explain the modus operandi of his model, which he did to the satisfaction of those present, after which resolutions were adopted instructing the secretary to publish the proceedings.

The steamer New Jackson, which was sunk last week in the Flint river, Georgia, will be saved with all her cargo.

The steamer Music, plying between Apalachicola and Bainbridge, sunk on Thursday, in the Chattahoochee river. No lives were lost.
